

Tactical Response for Schools: Complying with New Education Code Mandates

Keynote Speakers:

Eric Vetere - San Bernardino -
Lesson's Learned from a School Shooting

Gabriela Baeza - Keeping Your Tank Full: Dealing with Stress and Burnout

Sessions Include:

School-based Tactical Compliance
Single Officer Engagement
Threat Assessment
Conducting Vulnerability Assessments
Bullying Prevention
School Safety and Technology
Establishing Partnerships with Fire and Police
Depression and Suicide-Homicide Ideation
Why Kids Kill: The Mind of a School Shooter
And More

June 25 and 26, 2019 • Day One 8:30 to 3:30 • Day Two 8:30 to 12:30

Mandated Comprehensive School Safety Plans are required for every school or school district pursuant to California Education codes 32280 through 32289. Education code section 32281 has been revised by AB 1747 to include a mandate that schools and law enforcement agencies develop in cooperation with fire departments strategies to prevent acts of violence and school-based tactical response protocols.

This conference will provide schools and school districts with sound and practical plans and protocols to comply with this section of the education code. The conference will include both proactive and reactive strategies which can prevent or allow for rapid reaction to acts of extreme violence. Conference sessions will include information on school shooter typologies, the mental status of teen attackers, early warning behaviors, depression and suicide-homicide ideation, linking what we know about attacks to solid strategies and approaches that comply with the new mandates.

This Conference is appropriate for: Any person responsible for developing or approving the Comprehensive School Safety Plan; School Resource Officers; Fire Department Representatives; District Administrators; Intervention teams; Teachers; Maintenance and Operations; Technology Department; Campus Security; School Board Members; and others responsible for maintaining a safe and secure learning environment.

Training Outcomes:

- Greater Understanding of the New Mandate for school-based tactical response protocols
- Increased Ability to modify current plans for compliance
- Increased Ability to implement sound strategies and efforts

Cost:

$89 per person to attend

Breakfast and Lunch Included

Location:

Taquitiz High School, Hemet
4425 Titan Trail
Hemet, CA

Register Online: <https://csroa.org/>
For Additional Information including hotels go to www.csroa.org

For questions contact: Wayne Sakamoto at wsakamoto@csroa.org

